Executive summary

The course "Auditor/Lead Auditor ISO 37301 (Compliance Management System)" provides specialized training to develop auditing skills for Compliance Management Systems according to the ISO 37301 standard. Participants will learn how to plan, conduct, and report internal, second-party, and third-party audits applying the core principles of ISO 19011 and ISO/IEC 17021-1 to ensure effectiveness, transparency, and regulatory compliance within organizations. The curriculum focuses on leadership in management systems, compliance risk assessment, management of regulatory obligations, and monitoring performance through key indicators. Real case studies, control tools, and verification techniques will be presented to structure audits that meet the needs of different companies, including multinational and sector-specific contexts. This course is designed for auditors, compliance officers, consultants, and professionals seeking certified expertise to assess and improve corporate compliance processes in national and international environments.
