1. Course identity, purpose and scope

The "Halal Fundamentals – Training Course" provides a comprehensive and in-depth overview of the regulatory, operational, and management basics for ensuring Halal compliance in the food sector and beyond. In just 30 minutes, participants gain essential knowledge about the general requirements for production, packaging, transportation, and certification of Halal products, with a particular focus on international standards such as OIC/SMIIC and GSO. The program covers key aspects including Islamic slaughtering, traceability, labeling, and segregation along the supply chain, which are crucial to guarantee product authenticity and religious compliance. The course is designed for industry professionals, quality managers, auditors, and anyone involved in the management or certification of Halal products who wish to develop a clear understanding of operational dynamics and responsibilities. Targeted assessment questions evaluate the level of learning by highlighting the correct application of control procedures and risk management specific to manufacturing and distribution realities. This course is an ideal specialist introduction to strengthen practical skills regarding Halal regulations, enhancing decision-making capabilities in production and certification processes.

This extended technical dossier describes the pathway as published in CIWZ Academy on the issue date. It does not replace the official texts of the standards, laws, guidelines or schemes referenced.
