1. Course identity, purpose and scope

The "Foresight & Sustainability for MPF" training course centers on integrating strategic foresight methods with sustainability practices within Public Financial Management (MPF) frameworks. Against a backdrop of evolving EU regulations such as CSRD and ESRS, participants learn to apply international ISO standards, including ISO 14001, ISO 26000, ISO 20400, as well as greenhouse gas and carbon neutrality certifications. Through advanced tools like scenario planning, stakeholder engagement, STEEP/PESTLE analysis, and expert elicitation methods, learners develop skills to establish KPIs, assess double materiality, and design roadmaps for sustainable and resilient actions. The 60-minute course features case studies relevant to public bodies and companies in the food, technology, and utilities sectors, emphasizing transparent balancing of Environmental, Social, and Governance factors. The aim is to equip participants with competencies to manage strategic sustainability plans and investments aligned with the latest standards, enabling an integrated approach between foresight and the management of public and private resources.

This extended technical dossier describes the pathway as published in CIWZ Academy on the issue date. It consolidates purpose, references, learning architecture, module contents, assessment system, passing criteria and certificate conditions.
